

VALENTINE'S DAY GIFT IDEAS

Van Scoy Jewelers

Elegant and stunning are words that come to mind when you walk into the new Van Scoy Jewelers. The friendly, relaxed atmosphere is felt the moment you walk in which is a nice break from the dark mall stores. Convenient parking is available in their own parking lot and on street parking.

Owner, Caroline Hill has 40-plus years of experience and a true passion for the jewelry industry. It had been her long-term goal to relocate Van Scoy Jewelers from the Broadcasting Square shopping center to a stand-alone location.

When you walk into Van Scoy Jewelers you are greeted by a friendly, knowledgeable, and dedicated staff. "We don't view our customers as a one-time transaction... we strive to create lasting relationships with them," Caroline explains. "Often that translates into generations of families coming to us because we care about the quality and integrity of the products we offer."

What Caroline is most proud of with her business and the new building is the fact that she pulled it off despite the Covid situation. She feels like she created something that is beautiful in a good space with good light and great energy. Caroline has a bright vision for the future. "We want people to know we are not a chain store," she said. "We are a locally owned and operated small business who has been in business for over 40 years. I hope future generations will appreciate the quality service we provide. The future is exciting, and we look forward to being a part of many love stories."
