MEDICARE PRESCRIPTION DRUG PLANS

What are the differences between the different Medicare Prescription

Drug Plans? Joanne G. Norristown

That's a common question Joanne. Before we get to what is different, let's look at what is the same with all Part D Prescription Drug Plans (PDP's).

All Part D PDP's are offered through private insurance companies and go through four stages of spending. A Medicare Beneficiary moves through these stages based on shared spending between the Beneficiary and the drug company, so as you move through the different stages, the cost of your drug will change.

The differences in Part D PDP's have to do with your cost, both in terms of the premium you pay for the plan and the amount you pay for your drugs.

The premium, or money you spend to buy your drug plan, will be different with each plan. There are Part D plans that are included in Medicare Advantage plans. Medicare Advantage (MAPD) plans cover all of your Medicare Parts A and B benefits, as well as Part D coverage. There are also stand-alone Part D plans. These plans have a premium that can range from around $10/month up to over $100/month.

Another difference between PDPs is the actual cost of drugs from one plan to the next. Drug companies place covered drugs on a formulary, or list of drugs. Each drug on the list is given a tier, from tier one to tier five, with tier one being the least expensive, and tier five being the most expensive.

Each drug company has a different formulary. That means a tier 3 drug with one company may be a tier 2 drug with another company. Based on your personal drug regimen, different PDP's will be more cost effective for different people. That is why it is wise to review your PDP plan during the Annual Enrollment Period. This ensures you are in the best plan for the drugs you take. People can often reduce their drug cost by selecting a different PDP.

MEDICARE ENROLLMENT

If you're turning 65 soon, it's time to think about what Medicare plan is right for you.

If you are already enrolled but would like to review your options, we can help with that too!

MEDICARE ADVANTAGE

When you want a little extra coverage - like dental, vision, and hearing care - a Medicare Advantage plan might be right for you.

Contact Us to find out if it would be to your advantage to have a Medicare Advantage plan!

MEDICARE SUPPLIMENTS

Original Medicare pays for many healthcare services, but they do not cover everything.

A Medicare Supplement (AKA "Medigap") plan can help to cover the things that original Medicare does not.

MEDICARE PART D

Even if you don't currently take prescription drugs, it is our recommendation that everyone enroll in a plan.

Like Part B, a PDP comes with a late enrollment penalty, which you would be required to pay for the rest of your life.
