TIPS TO STAY CONSISTENT ON SOCIAL MEDIA

SOCIAL MEDIA TIPS

By Theresa Mintzer

The last few years has taught business owners the importance of connecting with their customer base. This can do this through social media. Most social media algorithms reward regular postings and engagements. That is important if you want people to find and get updates about your business.

Facebook is a great way to keep your customers informed about new information like changes to your hours. Customers will be more inclined to visit a business that has up to date information. You really do not want people showing up at your business when it is closed because the hours were wrong.

Here are some great tips to perform regularly:

1. Once a month, set aside time to make a list of what you want to post for the next month.

2. Create and schedule those posts. Depending on your content, schedule them weekly or monthly.

3. Using programs such as ChatGPT, Canva, and Metricool will cut down the time it takes to create and schedule your posts.

4. Once a month, look up your business on the different social media platforms to see if the information is current and relevant.

5. Check for messages daily. It is best if you can receive notifications when someone makes a comment. Respond to your customers as soon as you can.

6. Invite customers to leave a review and acknowledge it when they do.
